B HAVE BEEN CALL

HE redemption of the Hawaiian Government bonds and the non-appearance of the Special Agent of the United States Treasury Department has caused an unusual amount of talk in financial circles as to the probable effect of the non-redemption of the bonds, at least before Congress again convenes. The bondholders themselves are not especially hurt by the delay, but those who have anticipated the payments have made many stock transactions on the strength of the report that the bonds would be paid within a short time, or at latest, sixty days from June 14. The bonds have been placed in the banks in exchange for stocks or promises of stocks. If the bonds are not paid by the Federal Government, considerable uneasiness will be caused. Future assessments, which were to be paid with the proceeds from the bond redemption will have to be tided over by proceeds from other sources.

MR. WAITY ON THE BOND REDEMPTION.

Anent the probable failure of the United States Treasury Department to take up the Hawaiian bonds and pay for them in United States gold coin, Mr. H. E. Waity of the banking firm of ... shop & Co. said yesterday:

"I don't believe the bon ... olders themselves will care very much whether the bonds are taken up or not. They can afford to hold them, as they have in the past. No; it is not the holders of the bonds who will suffer if they are not redeemed. If the Federal Government wanted to redeem them the holders would have taken the money. Supposing they would have been given to understand these bonds would be redeemed, they would have been looking out for other investments. People interested in the various stocks and companies that are issuing stocks, have been soliciting their investments. Many of these companies have been promised that in the event of the Hawaiian bonds being paid, money would be paid over to them. It is not the bondholder who is so much interested in having the bonds redeemed at prezent, as the parties who have substitute securities to offer. Of course it amounts to a blocking of the promoter's enterprises. It blocks the payment of assessments. For myself, however, I do not believe the bonds will be redeemed until Congress again sits in session. It is to my mind a matter for Congress to settle. The very fact that Secretary Gage considered a special appropriation necessary, that he should ask for it from Congress, and did not get it, will certainly make him hesitate all the more about attempting to proceed under the authority of the Newlands annexation resolu-tion alone. Congress did not actually refuse his request, but merely neglected it. That fact alone will deter him from assuming any personal responsibility in the matter. I certainly believe that if Secretary Gage thought he had the power to redeem the bonds, he would not have asked Congress for an Act making the funds available. But having done so, I believe we will have to wait unt I the next session of Congress before the bondholders will get their money. MUNTYRE BUILDING ON FORT STREET.

Architect Traphagen has just completed the plans and specifications for the new Meintyre building to be erected at the corner of King and Fort streets or the site at present occupied by the stores of Mclatyre & Co., Camara & Co., Mrs. Hanna and M. R. Counter. The plans have been submitted for estimates from ocal contractors and therefore the cost of the proposed structure is not yet available. The plans call for a two-story brick and stone building with terra cetta trimmings to be used for store and office purposes. The new bunding will take in the entire frontage from the corner to Jordan's store on Fort street and as far as the storehouse of E. O. r.all & Sons on King. An improvement will accrue from the building in that it will set back several feet from the street line as now occupied, sty tals means the entire Walkiki side of Fort street from Hotel to King will be widened with the exception of the site of the Jordan store. The present one-story buildings will not be torn down until the middle of August, when McIntyre will move into the new Boston building. The contractors are rushing the completion of the store portion so that no delay will occur in moving the grocery store of McIntyre into its new quarters. The design of the new structure is pleasing and the interior arrangements are admirably adapted for general office purposes,

ALEXANDER YOUNG TO GO TO THE COAST.

Alexander Young will make a second trip to the Censt on the Australia, leaving July 10, in connection with the plans and estimates of his new business block. Mr. Mutch, who engineered the sale of the McGrew and Bishop Estate property to Mr. Young, will accompany the latter and jointly make a careful survey of the plans. Not...ng will be done with the property until September, as the present occupants have been given until that time to vacate. Dr. McGrew is removing many of the cottages on his former property and putting them on other pieces of real estate belonging to him. One cottage has been moved to Richards and Heretania street and will be reco Dr. Taylor's office has been located. Hotel street has been blocked by the re- come off the wheel. Another sharp moval of the cottages, but the work is carried on as expeditiously as possible. turn and the rear tire suffered in the Thursday night the steam roller was used to good advantage and by noon yesterday the cottage was brought to its destination.

POSTAL SAVINGS BANK DEPOSITS.

The Postal Savings Bank claimed the attention of Governor Dole and of the Government yesterday morning. It was brought out that there was deposited in the bank at the end of the year 1859 over three-quarters of a million dollars, but since that time considerable of this has been withdrawn. Secretary Cooper, acting as Territorial Treasurer pro tem, brought up the question of the redemption of outstanding bonds and the proposition of winding up the affairs of the in-stitution. The bank has not been in operation since June 11, and the clerks of the department are busily engaged in balancing up the accounts. The Governor, said Mr. Cooper, would be required to certify to the funds now in the bank, which would also have to be attested to by himself. The certifical's of deposit would be turned into the old Interior Department, which would draw upon the Territorial Treasurer for the full amount. In his opinion there was a question as to what department should pay the interest on the deposits after June 14 until July 1, when interest would be stopped. He also brought up the matter of the redemption of Hawa'ian Government bonds. He was of the opinion that many bondholders would be willing to turn over their bonds in exchange for Uncle Sam's gold. He had received word from Secretary Gage that the bonds wou. .

LAOCK BROKERS COMPLAIN.

Stock brokers complain that the market is dull lately, occasioned by a tightening money market. Much or the depression in brokerage circles is laid to the uncertainty of the Hawaiian bond redemption. Quotations are kept up and no falling off in prices has been noticeable to any extent. Many stock transfers were made with the understanding that the money realization from the bond redemption should go toward liquidating these transfers. The brokers-at least, many of them-feel that they will come out of the little end of the horn in case the bonds are not token up by the Federal Government.

SANDS TALKS OF THINGS HAWAIIAN

Honolulan in Salt Lake, Utah, Fills a Newspaper Half Column.

Honolulans abroad are much given to newspaper interviews and politics; the plague and sugar development are neverfalling topics. The following is taken from the Sait Lake Tribune:

"There are only sporadic cases of the bubonic piague now in Honolulu," H. B. Sands of the Hawaiian capital at the Manitou yesterday. "That is, there may be three cases today, two more tomorrow and none the next day. Its inc. cations are a high fever and swelling of the lymphatic glands, and it is no re specter of persons, although primarily a nith disease. to annexation. But, then, they are a race fast dying out. They are being largely absorbed by the other races in intermarriage. Like the natives at Guam and Samoa, the Kanakas have no profane or vile words in their own vernacular; but the coming of the white men have provided them abundantly with the verbal explosives as well as intoxicants. "The sugar planters have increased their sphere of operations since the anexation, and that part of the Island of Molokal not occupied by the lepers is occupied by the sugar men. There is no langer of leper infection, as there is a precipitous mountain range running the length of the island which the lepers cannot climb over, and which cuts them off effectually from the rest of the island. The lepers live happily and contented, supported by the Government until they die."

MERRY CHASE FOR A POOR DRIVER

Foreigner Bires Tom Carty's Rig and Takes the Tires Off the Wheels.

Mounted Patrolman Kelly and Tom Carty, the liveryman, had an exciting chase yesterday at 1 o'clock down King street in quest of a man who had hired one of Carty's rubber-tired rigs. The pursued driver had gotten mixed up with some okolehao with the result that he drove his horse up both sides of Upon the premises of Mrs. Rhodes, or King street at once.

Tom Carty got wind of the erratic driver's actions and picking up Patrolman Kelly started in pursuit. Tom had an angry look on his countenance and breathed vengeance on the man in the hired rig when he caught Being the remainder of Mrs. Rhodes up with him. Kelly caught the bridle valuable collection. of the livery animal just as it reached the corner of King and Bethel streets and told the man, who was a foreigner, to jump out and accompany him to the Police station. Tom Carty pointed to the damaged wheels and demanded that the wreckage be made good.

A companion of the foreign gentleman quickly alighted from the buggy and slunk off in the crowd and was not arrested. At the Police station Tom thought better of his action and agreed that if the damages were paid, which he said amounted to $15, he would not enter a police charge. The stranger quickly acquiesced and made his way toward Carty's barn, while Tom took up the rear of the procession wearing a smile that meant much for his customer-if he wouldn't pay.
